

FOOD HAVEN

From nasi lemak, nasi kerabu, nasi dagang, nasi tumpang and the whole nine yards of noodle dishes of mee, mee hoon and kuey teow variations, not forgetting mouthwatering desserts like pengats and puluts, the colourful array of kuih-muih, even milk teas, kopi peng and Neslo – all which have become an integral part of Malaysia will be yours to taste and testify.

Those with a palate for East Asian cuisine will also be able to sink their teeth into a variety of FOOD FEST, expect interesting feats and performances “of the food kind”, including Malaysia’s 2014 and 2015 “Teh Tarik King’s Championship’s Showcase” beginning at 2.30pm, as well as performances by street buskers starting at noon.

While all the above sounds deliciously tempting, do record the dates and treat your tastebuds to a flavourful journey and the family to an eventful day.

Some of Franco’s sign

Gina happy with her Wetzel's Pretzel.